

Romancing the Man...

10 TIPS TO WOO YOUR GUY
ANY DAY OF THE YEAR
by Dineen Miller

Want to wow your man but don't know where to start? How about some small ideas to get the ball rolling. Do something once a week for a month and watch what happens to your marriage. And most importantly, have fun!

1. Buy his favorite magazine or a book he's been meaning to buy and put little love notes in between the pages.
2. Order chocolate-covered-strawberries and have them delivered to his work. Makes them look really good to the other guys drooling over his special love treat.
3. Surprise him with a complete evening designed to focus on him. If possible, have a friend or relative take the kids, make his favorite dinner and dessert, shower him with attention that takes the evening right into the bedroom. The night's all about him!
4. Write him a love letter. Tell him you're still crazy about and for him.
5. Buy his favorite treat and hide in a place for him to "discover" it. Hide multiple items or little gifts and tell him you're saving the best surprise for later.
6. Text him love messages throughout the day and tell him you have a surprise to model for him later.
7. Go for a walk and don't talk about the kids, money issues, or problems. Take him bowling, out for an ice cream cone, or to a movie and act like teenagers!

8. Surprise him with a long shoulder rub or massage with no strings attached. He's the one who gets spoiled this time.
9. Give him a handmade coupon for a free day to do whatever he wants, guilt free.
10. This one is a year-long project. Buy a journal and fill the pages with messages to him. Tell him about moments you noticed him the most, when he was sexier than usual, when he revealed his heart to you and/or the kids, when his integrity saved the day, etc. Start in January and make it a Christmas present. This may be one of the most special gifts you will ever give him.

Have Small Children?

If you have small kids and no family to take them for an evening or not enough funds for a babysitter, consider planning a special evening for your hubby with the kids there. Let them see you make a fuss over your spouse. What a wonderful way for them to see what love looks like in a marriage. Get them involved by helping you decorate, set the table and plan a menu. Make it a family event to celebrate the love you all share for each other (like on Valentine's Day!). You can turn the event into a valuable lesson that will keep giving throughout the rest of the year.
